Dear Doctor:

The specimen of blood taken from Warren Alley showed a negative Hinton reaction

W. L. Maclean

Bacteriologist.

The reaction as carried out in this laboratory has the following diagnostic significance: Positive indicates syphilis, except very rarely in acute febrile conditions, such as malaria and pneumonia. Negative Does Not Exclude Syphilis. In dealing with obscure conditions, less than three negatives has no significance. Doubtful (±) signifies an inconclusive result. It is advisable to submit several specimens in such a case, and interpret a persistently predominatingly doubtful reaction as indicative of a syphilitic infection. Unsatisfactory means that the test was unsuccessful either because of the condition of specimen or some difficulty with the technique. In the latter event, the test will be repeated on the next testing day, otherwise a new specimen will be required. Anticomplimentary signifies that there is no hemolysis in the control tube, as well as in the test of the serum and antigen. It could not be interpreted therefore as either positive or negative, and another specimen is required.
