Llewellyn Oliver, injury.

Bureau of Lighthouses,
April 17, 1913.

Returned to First Inspector.

Have Oliver submit report of injury (form S. A.—1b), stating on that report, or in an accompanying supplemental letter, all of the circumstances of the accident, and an explanation of just what kind of a shock he received,-whether due to paralysis or other physical malady. The Bureau is informally advised by the Bureau of Labor Statistics that if the incapacity of Mr. Oliver is the result of burns received by him in the line of duty, his claim for compensation will, no doubt, be favorably considered. Have him submit a claim for compensation, on form C. A.—4b.

If Oliver's claim for compensation is favorably considered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Bureau will give consideration to the payment of such expenses for medicines, medical and surgical attendance which may have been incurred by Oliver, upon vouchers properly certified by the proper persons and your own certificate that such accounts are just and reasonable and that the expenditures were incurred by reason of injuries received in the line of duty, in accordance with page 103 of the Regulations, 1911, last paragraph.

Your recommendation is desired on the question of paying medical expenses.

1 Respectfully returned, with enclosures.

2 In reply to paragraph 4 of Department of Labor letter dated December 5, 1913, Oliver did not resume work, but was, however, paid the full compensation authorized by approvalof claim, as per report of November 26, 1913, Form C A 15 a, namely, "Medical attendance and Medicines "only", according to Bureau's letters of April 17 and May 28, 1913. (See also his report of Injury C A 1 b and Claim for Compensation C A 4 b and endorsements relating thereto.)

Lighthouse Inspector, Portland, Maine.

Referring to your indorsement of December 17, 1913, in the case of payment of compensation on account of injuries to Llewellyn Oliver, formerly keeper of Fort Popham Light Station, Maine.

It appears to the Bureau that you have not properly made payment to Oliver under authority contained in Department of Labor approval of March 16, 1913, for payment of compensation to him for a period ending July 6, 1913. You are advised that the matter of the reimbursement for expenses incurred by reason of medical attendance and medicine is entirely separate from that of payment of compensation, and Bureau indorsements of April 17, and May 28, 1913, referred to by you, give no authority for disregarding the approval of the Department of Labor above referred to.

If you did not pay Oliver his compensation as such up to the close of February 28, 1913, when his services were discontinued without prejudice, it would appear that you may properly do so in view of the approval of the Department of Labor for the payment of such compensation. In view of the fact that Oliver's services were terminated before July 6, 1913, up to which date the Secretary of Labor approved payment of compensation unless incapacity should sooner terminate, it is suggested that you raise the question by letter, in duplicate, as to whether or not this Service may pay his compensation for the period between Frebruary 28 and July 6, 1913, together with a statement as to whether or not the incapacity of Mr. Oliver for duty also during that period.

The Bureau is returning Department of Labor letter of December 6, 1913, and inclosure, together with your indorsement of December 17, 1913 with request that these papers be reutrned to the Bureau with your reply.

Recom letter herewith to Secy of Labor Hdqrs

1. Respectfully returned.

2. Oliver was paid compensation to date on which, at his own request, his services were discontinued without prejudice, namely, February 28, 1913. This was before the matter of his claim had been considered by the Bureau. The resignation, from all information that this office has been able to obtain, was made on account of his disability by shock and not the burns.

3. Should the date to be considered, in raising the question as to payment beyond February 28th, be that of the recovery from burns, which appears by record to have been March 18, 1913.

4. There seems to be no doubt but that Oliver's incapacity from further Lighthouse duty is permanent, but he has however, been paid the full time contemplated in the claim. (See page 4, par 7.)

JAN 15 1914

Sir:

Referring to your letter of December 8, 1913, in regard to your approval, dated May 16, 1913, for the payment of compensation to Llewellyn Oliver, former keeper of Fort Popham Light Station, Maine, I have to advise you that Oliver was paid compensation at the rate of $552 per annum, and the subsistence allowance of 30 cents per diem, or commutation of such allowance, up to the close of February 28, 1913, when his services were discontinued without prejudice, in view of a report received from his wife to the effect that he would be unable to longer perform the duties of his position. It appears that the keeper desired to leave the service on account of his disability by shock and not on account of disability from the burns sustained while on duty. It appears that he recovered from the burns on March 18, 1913. He was also paid for medical attendance and medicines for the period from January 6 to March 18, inclusive, 1913, amounting to $46.50.

There appears to be no doubt but that Oliver's incapacity for further lighthouse duty is permanent and this office requests to be advised as to whether or not under the approval for payment of compensation in this case this Department has authority to pay Oliver compensation beyond February 28, 1913, when his services were discontinued without prejudice, and up to July 6, 1913, in accordance with your approval of May 16, 1913.

Sir:

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of January 15, 1914, referring to the compensation case of Llewellyn Oliver, former keeper of Fort Popham Light Station, Maine, and requesting information as to the period for which compensation payments should be made.

It appears that on January 6, 1913, the employee had a stroke of paralysis while on duty, which caused him to fall into the flame of the tower lamp which he was trimming, burning his right hand; that his claim for compensation was approved by this Department on May 16, 1913, for a period ending not later than July 6, 1913; that the employee resigned on February 28, 1913; that he recovered from the burns on March 18, 1913; and that his incapacity for further lighthouse duty is permanent on account of paralysis.

The fact that the employee resigned while incapacitated for duty on account of injury is not a factor in determining when payments of compensation should be discontinued as the employee is entitled to compensation until sufficiently recovered from his injuries to enable him to resume work. The injury in this case was the burning of the hand and not the paralysis which seems to be a disease from natural causes and not an injury within the meaning of the Compensation Act. As the employee recovered from the burns on March 18, 1913, the payment of compensation should terminate with that date.

SIR:

You are advised that the claim of the person described below establishes a right to compensation under the act of May 30, 1908. In accordance with the authority conferred upon me by the said act I hereby approve the payment of compensation to the claimant at a rate equal to the pay he would have received if he had continued to be employed, such compensation to continue until the claimant is able to resume work, but in no event for a period longer than one year from the date of the injury, the payment of said compensation to be made upon the following conditions:

1. Each payment of compensation shall be based upon a certificate, signed by the claimant and approved by the claimant's superior officer, to the effect that during the time covered by the said payment the claimant was unable to resume work, and that the inability to so resume work was the result of the injury for which compensation was granted.

2. If the claimant's superior officer is unable to satisfy himself that the claimant was unable to resume work for any period for which compensation is claimed, he may require that the claimant submit to him a certificate from a duly authorized medical practitioner showing the continuance of the inability to resume work, and upon this he may base his approval of the certificate referred to in the preceding paragraph.

3. The compensation hereby authorized is to cover only such time as the claimant shall have been or shall be unable to resume work by reason of the injury referred to and for which the said claimant shall have received or shall receive no other pay or compensation from the United States.

Dear Sir:-

In reply to your letter of the 3d inst., Mr. Oliver's injury occurred at the time he had the shock. He was trimming the light in the tower on the morning of January 6th, and had lighted it as he usually did, when he took the shock. As he did not come into his breakfast his usual time I went out to see why and found him with his arms around the lamp and his right hand in the blaze. It burned his hand badly and he was not been able to use his right arm since. He is totally unable to do any labor and needs attention all the time. He was unconscious when I found him and had to be carried from the lighthouse to the dwelling. Dr. A. F. Williams of Phippsburg attended him.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Llewellyn Oliver

Mr. Oliver, the Light House Keeper is sick in bed; he has had a shock, his right arm hangs by his side, he has no use of it, and his mind is very bad, so he will not be able to stay only until the last day of this month. We would like to go the first day of March. Then we think he will be able to be moved by that time. Our son will tend the light. He knows as much about the light as his father, and referring to the light being out on the 26 or 27, that is not so. The light was all right at 12 o'clock, but when our son went out to put out, the chimney was smoked a little and the light did not shine plain, but was burning all right. Did not suppose we had to report it, but we will tend to it while we are here. Now. Mr. Sherman, if you can, we want some one to be here the first of March.

Commissioner

DL of July 3, 1911, states

" * * In view of the statement that the employees are superannuated, that they are performing the duties to the best of their ability, and that they are earning their salaries, the Department will take no further action in their cases at the present time. The Bureau, however, should direct the Inspector under whom the employees serve to immediately report any physical or mental incapacity on the part of these employees which would tend to render them unfit for the service required in their respective positions."

JAN 15 1914

Sir:

Referring to your letter of December 5, 1913, in regard to your approval, dated May 16, 1913, for the payment of compensation to Llewellyn Oliver, former keeper of Fort Popham Light Station, Maine, I have to advise you that Oliver was paid compensation at the rate of $553 per annum, and the subsistence allowance of 30 cents per diem, or commutation of such allowance, up to the close of February 28, 1913, when his services were discontinued without prejudice, in view of a report received from his wife to the effect that he would be unable to longer perform the duties of his position. It appears that the keeper desired to leave the service on account of his disability by shock and not on account of disability from the burns sustained while on duty. It appears that he recovered from the burns on March 18, 1913. He was also paid for medical attendance and medicines for the period from January 6 to March 18, inclusive, 1913, amounting to $46.50.

There appears to be no doubt but that Oliver's incapacity for further lighthouse duty is permanent and this office requests to be advised as to whether or not under the approval for payment of compensation in this case this Department has authority to pay Oliver compensation beyond February 28, 1913, when his services were discontinued without prejudice, and up to July 6, 1913, in accordance with your approval of May 16, 1913.

There is inclosed the report of discontinuance of compensation payments made in this case, which accompanied your letter of December 5, 1913.

Respectfully,

(Signed)

Acting Secretary.
