Sir

Regarding the temporary additional keeper, Billings - he informs me that he does not intend to stay in the service, but is going to sea, and I guess the only reason he took the job out here was because he didnt have much money when discharged from the Army. While he is a good worker, he dont seem to be able to get the idea of the method of operating the vapor lamp.

He is willing to stay until I can find a man, and as soon as the weather moderates so I can get in, I am going to try and find one. There are plenty of them that want jobs but they will only stay until they get a months pay.
